

NoodleTools Step-by-Step: Creating a Bibliography with MLA Style Citations

Create a Personal ID from any campus computer. (For off-campus instructions, see a librarian.)

Write down your Personal ID and password here:

At My Projects Screen, click on the box on the right that says Create a New Project (it has a green plus sign next to it).

At the Create a New Project Screen, select MLA and Advanced and enter a description for this project, such as Psyc 200 Paper, then click Create Project.

At the next page, click the down-arrow button to Select a Citation Type. After you've chosen the type of source you need to create a citation for, then click Create Citation.

Choose the tab that corresponds to the type of source you are using: print, a database, or an ebook.

Then enter the actual elements of your citation using your source. When you put your cursor in each field, it will give you guidance about how to enter the text.

The annotation section is where you can include your evaluation and analysis of the resource being cited.

Click submit to see your finished citation.

Media Type	Citation
Reference Source Article/Entry	Steiger, Brad Steiger, and Sherry Hansen Steiger. "Spirits of the Dead." The Gale Encyclopedia of the Unusual and Unexplained . Vol. 3. Detroit: Thomson Gale, 2003. 20-21. Print.

After you have created your citation and annotation, click on Dashboard in order to share your bibliography with your instructor or a librarian.

In the box for Assignment Drop Box, enter the name your instructor has given you, then your name and click Share Project.
